This groundbreaking study traces the development of Roman architecture and its sculpture from the earliest days to the middle of the 5th century BCE Existing narratives cast the Greeks as the progenitors of classical art and architecture or rely on historical sources dating centuries after the fact to establish the Roman context Author John North Hopkins however allows the material and visual record to play the primary role in telling the story of Rome s origins synthesizing important new evidence from recent excavations Hopkins s detailed account of urban growth and artistic political and social exchange establishes strong parallels with communities across the Mediterranean From the late 7th century Romans looked to increasingly distant lands for shifts in artistic production By the end of the archaic period they were building temples that would outstrip the monumentality of even those on the Greek mainland The book s extensive illustrations feature new reconstructions allowing readers a rare visual exploration of this fragmentary evidence The Museum Owen

Hopkins,2021-10-12 This beautiful and visually immersive book charts the fascinating story of the institution of the Museum from its origins to the present Visited by millions around the world every year museums are one of mankind's most essential creations They tell stories shape cultural identities and hold valuable insight about the past and about the future This captivating work charts a path from the very first collection through to the latest developments in cultural curation interweaving Using examples of the greatest cultural institutions to shape the narrative historian and academic Owen Hopkins draws on his deep knowledge of the field to outline the history of the museum movement Tracking the evolution from princely collections in Europe and the Enlightenment's classically inspired temples of curiosities via the public museums of the late nineteenth century on to today's global era of iconic buildings designed by the world's leading architects this book is a vital work for anyone seeking to understand the development of the museum into what it is today Over the course of five chapters filled with stunning imagery that highlights the beauty of these venerated buildings the origins of key institutions are revealed including Louvre Metropolitan Museum of Art British Museum Tate Modern The Hermitage Guggenheim Smithsonian Institute Acropolis Museum Also outlined are the motivations of the architects curators and patrons who have shaped how we experience the modern museum a cast that includes names such as King George II Napoleon Henry Clay Frick Peggy Guggenheim Andrew Carnegie Alfred Barr Frank Lloyd Wright Le Corbusier Frank Gehry Richard Rogers Nicholas Serota and Zaha Hadid By examining how these venues became intrinsic to our shared cultural experience analysing the changing roles they play in society and questioning what the future holds in a digital age this book is for anyone who has stood in awe at the spectacle of a museum
