Food, Labor, and Beverage Cost Control Edward E. Sanders, 2015-07-24

Foodservice operators have the advantage of using point of sale system applications and tablets. While the POS system is an efficient tool to process information, analyze customer guest check orders, and track employees, it doesn't uproot the need for foodservice operators to understand process and interpret that same important information. Edward Sanders, foodservice industry veteran and college professor, introduces culinary and hospitality management students to information essential for the successful management of foodservice operations. His coverage is thorough, and the logically sequenced topics include writing a standardized HACCP Recipe, determining portion costs, using menu popularity percentages, calculating seat turnover rates, and server productivity, preparing a sales forecast, completing an income statement, and much more. The author clearly explains the reasoning behind strategies and methods presented in each chapter, in addition to highlighting the benefits of POS system applications and tablets. Well thought out assignments assess students' level of understanding.

Information and communication technologies for small-scale fisheries (ICT4SSF) - A handbook for fisheries stakeholders Tilley, A. and Roscher, M. (Ed.),

The aim of this report is to present evidence towards how Information and Communication Technologies for Small scale Fisheries (ICT4SSF) might enable and support the implementation of the FAO's Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication (SSF Guidelines). We present case studies of ICT4SSF initiatives in different use areas to identify key themes and reflect on successes and failures. There are very few baselines against which to compare fisher wellbeing and access before and after ICT initiatives, and this gap is an important finding in this report. Thus far, success has only been assessed qualitatively and relatively in terms of uptake, sustainability, and local legitimacy. Still, some ICT4SSF initiatives presented in this document are closely aligned with the Principles for Digital Development and the objectives of the SSF Guidelines. These initiatives highlighted that when ICTs are locally led or developed or co-designed with end users and marginalised groups or strengthened already existing networks and technologies, the potential for positive impact is much higher. However, there is much less evidence of proactive confrontation of inequality through data ownership. Further, there are very few examples of developing mechanisms for fishers and fish workers to hold access or own their data or legal mechanisms to recognise their ownership or protect them against misuse or manipulation.
