comparative advantage must be reinterpreted in a more dynamic way than in the past with changing labor input coefficients treated as variables and driven by international capability building competition between factories Some of the many topics dealt with in this volume include a capability architecture view of industrial comparative advantage a design based view of manufacturing the evolution of manufacturing capabilities Ricardian comparative advantage with changing labor input coefficients comparative design cost and selection of design locations and a design process model behind comparative design cost In this way the behaviors of factories product development projects firms industries and national economies in today's global competition are described and analyzed in the most realistic way
